Women's Tailored Cloth Suits.

Worth $25.00 to $37.50 in a Great Sale Offered Saturday at the Sensationally Low Price of

How really remarkable the values are you can judge from the statement that we have had some of the identical suits in our regular stock earlier in the season at $37.50. The maker wanted to wind up his season-and disposed of his entire surplus stock to us at a nominal price. The values overshadow any that have been offered this fall or winter. The lot consists of the finest materials, such as imported chiffon broadcloths, imported Worombo broadcloths, English serges, plain cheviots, mannish plaids and mixtures, also stylish checks.

All of this season's most approved models are represented-including dressy Etons, jaunty blouses, semi-fitting coat styles, tight-fitting styles, blouses with high girdles, pony coat suits and long tight-fitting effects. Particularly handsome and desirable are the long redingote Prince Alberts in the lot.

There are beautiful plain tailored styles, some slightly trimmed and others tailored with inset of wood slik braid. Still others are richly trimmed with velvet and braid bands in splendid designs. Some are trimmed with inset taffeta, embellished with novelty trim-

Continuation of the Wonderful Selling of High-Class Furs at One-Third to One-Half Under Price.

Such values as we have been offering since the inauguration of this sale of Fine Grade FURS have never been equaled in the history of Washington retailing. Fur buyers who have made camparisons have been quick to appreciate the big savings offered—as the selling evidences. We closed out from a leading New York manufacturer his entire surplus stock of Furs at a discount of nearly fifty cents on the dollar. Now that cold weather has arived the great values that our purchase makes possible will cause Goldenberg's to become the objective point for every prospective Fur purchaser.
